North End School Expansion Appears Stalled 6 Months

Circleville board of education Tuesday night remained contemplative about the proposed purchase of property for a north end elementary school building.

Actual building on the proposed addition to the Circleville system now appears to be at least a half year since board members passed a resolution to extend school improvement bonds as inactive public monies for at least six months.

Bond issue monies derived from the November elections of 1947, now deposited in four Circleville banks at one-fifth of one percent on $350,000 of the total $396,904.51, is to be reentered in the banks following opening of formal bids in the high school in mid-October.

Of the total $350,000 now on deposit in local banks, $100,000 is distributed to each of the First, Second and Third National banks while the remaining $50,000 is deposited with Circleville Savings and Banking Co.

THE NEW resolution approved by the board states that the money will be deposited with the local banks for a one-year period, with the provision the board may withdraw any part of the total after six months.

Announcement of new awards will be made at the high school Oct. 19 at 7:30 p. m.

Although building plans appear in the rather distant future, board members are going ahead with discussions of suitable site for the proposed program.

Two properties are under serious consideration by the school heads.

They are the Zwicker property on Northridge road, a 15-acre plot optioned by the board at $12,000, and the John Goeller property, extending southward on Atwater avenue from the north city limits.

Estimated price on the Goeller property, at $32.50 per front foot, would amount to about $19,500 for a desired 600 feet. The Goeller plot has a depth of 340 feet.

The Zwicker option, granted July 28, is to expire Oct. 28 while an unwritten offer by Goeller will expire about two days later.

A special session of the board is to be called during the middle of October to decide which, if either, of the properties will be chosen as the site.

SET PRECEDENT IN OHIO

Attorneys Filing Suits To Collect Fee From City

The city of Circleville is facing a double-barreled law suit in Pickaway County common pleas court arising from legal fees and services in establishing the municipal water system.

Tom A. Renick has begun action for collection of $15,000 from the city and Joe Adkins Jr. is expected to lodge a similar complaint within the next day or two.

Total fees and expenses to be asked by Adkins are not expected to be as high as that of Renick since Adkins spent less time on the case as a private attorney.

Greater part of Adkins' services came while he was serving as Circleville city solicitor on a flat pay basis established by a municipal ordinance.

The city's $13,000 offer two weeks ago was turned down officially Tuesday in a joint letter from the two attorneys to City Solicitor George Gerhardt, and was read in council meeting Tuesday night.

FURTHERMORE, city council was read the court summons which was presented to Mayor Thurman I. Miller. The official record requires an answer by Oct. 25 from the city.

The $13,000 sum was authorized by city council at last meeting when it was learned Adkins and Renick were to file actions for money against the city. An offer last winter mentioned $10,500, but was never acted upon.

While Adkins has not yet filed his petition in common pleas court, it probably will follow the same trend of text as the Renick petition.

Renick's petition stated he was officially engaged by the city on Feb. 6, 1945. In 1943 city council passed the first ordinance authorizing proceedings to begin for purchase of the system from the Ohio Water Service Co.

At that time, the Ohio Company was asking $550,000 which the city officials believed too high and which was to serve as the basis for lengthy court actions.

Until Renick's services were terminated in June of 1947, his petition declared, both he and Adkins defended the city in five courts and brought about two citywide elections in answer to referendum petitions circulated by the Ohio company.

In addition to these services, the action continued, Renick was instrumental in establishing condemnation proceedings setting a precedent in Ohio law.

THIS LEVER was brought to bear when the Ohio company refused to accept a jury evaluation of $420,000 on the property proposed for purchase by the city.

It was, in effect, the "law of eminent domain." This was, Renick's petition pointed out, the first time in Ohio history that condemnation action was approved in state courts.

Twice the Ohio company began action in court of appeals and on both occasions the matter was dismissed.

Renick's petition alleged further that he assisted in saving the city $50,000 through negotiations with the bonding firm of Stifel, Nicolaus and Co., Inc., of Chicago.

This was accomplished by procuring an interest rate of one and three-quarter percent on a portion of the bond issue and two percent on the balance, Renick's action declared.

In a partial list of itemized services, Renick's petition contained seven and one-half pages by date covering 371 separate items.

Beside legal fees, other services included special meetings, trips to Chicago and Columbus, operational expenses, hiring of stenographers and continuous time devoted to the city during court proceedings.

Police State Ahead, Claim

Taft Lashes Truman Aims

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22—Sen. Robert A. Taft warned today that the election of President Truman in November would result in a "completely regimented people and a police state" for the nation.

The Ohio senator lashed out at what he termed the President's program of "unlimited spending and regimentation."

He charged that Mr. Truman "would like to set aside the Constitution and have a rubber-stamp Congress subservient to the President."

"The President already has so much power," said Taft, "that he can hardly escape responsibility for the conditions existing under his own administration."

Taft compared Mr. Truman with Henry Wallace and the third party, explaining:

"NOT COMMUNISM but Socialism is the goal of the neo-New Deal. The police state would lead, as night follows day, into the totalitarian state."

Meanwhile, President Truman carried his campaign into California, moving through Nevada en route, with major speeches scheduled tonight in San Francisco and Oakland.

The chief executive left Salt Lake City last night encouraged by the reception he received there and, a day earlier, in Denver.

Mindful that his opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, spoke a day behind him in Colorado's capital, Mr. Truman threw him a direct challenge last night.

The President, who unleashed another heavy verbal attack on the Republican Party and policy of serving "special interests" against the interests of the "plain people," challenged Dewey to "come out in the open."

Mr. Truman refrained from naming his opponent directly, but he called for a declaration of policy both by the Republican Party and Dewey on the vital issues facing the nation today.

Baby To Undergo Special Surgery

CHICAGO, Sept. 22—Pamela Lamphere, the 23-month-old child who was born with an inverted bladder outside her body, will undergo surgery in Cook County Hospital here today to correct the condition.

The child was the center of a court battle when her parents, Fred and Irene Lamphere, separated because of a disagreement over the surgery.

The parents became reconciled after the court ordered a series of three operations recommended by a board of medical experts.

Cairo Rocked

CAIRO, Sept. 22—A heavy explosion rocked Cairo today. The blast was reported to have occurred in the Jewish quarter.

A VIOLENT TROPICAL HURRICANE, booming its way over the island city of Key West, Fla., and battering the city with winds estimated as high as 160 miles an hour, sends advance agents in the form of high winds and heavy seas into Miami. Streets are deserted along Miami Beach and palm trees bend before the driving rain preceding the hurricane (top photo). Spray is tossed high in the air as waves break over Baker's Haulover bridge 15 miles north of Miami (lower photo). Main part of storm missed Miami, roared inland and northward.

Diplomats Claim New Note Being Written To Reds

PARIS, Sept. 22—Authoritative diplomatic sources said today that the Western Powers are preparing a new note to the Kremlin in the effort to avert a breakdown of Berlin negotiations.

It is understood that the note, now being drafted by the "London Deputies Berlin Committee," will repeat Western charges that Soviet Military Governor Marsall Vassili Sokolovsky violated the understanding the Western envoys reached with Soviet Premier Stalin.

While avoiding appearance of an ultimatum, the note is expected to make clear that unless Sokolovsky changes his approach, the Berlin talks cannot continue.

Sokolovsky is said to have virtually reneged on offers made by Stalin to the Western envoys in their initial conversation last August.

State Republicans Detail List Of Accomplishments

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22—Six weeks from today it'll be all over and Ohio will know who is going to be president and who is going to be governor in 1949.

Meanwhile, however, there's a lot of politicking to be done. And the Republicans are getting ready to do their share of it.

California Gov. Earl Warren, the vice-presidential candidate on the ticket headed by New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is coming to Columbus tomorrow for the one-day, streamlined Republican platform convention. The Democrats held their kick-off convention and named their 25 presidential elector candidates last week.

Governor Herbert will go to Cincinnati to meet Warren and accompany him to Columbus.

Death Prevents Gift Presentation

WOODSFIELD, Sept. 22—A. B. Devore, 94 years old and married 75 years, won't have a chance to win a radio prize he received for his marital record.

Devore and his wife were awarded $101 as the listeners who had been married for the longest period. Last night, Devore died before he could collect the money.

NEW BRASS 'NOT WANTED'

Council Moving Slowly On New Officer Setup

A third reading was voted by Circleville city council Tuesday night for three ordinances that would abolish the office of collector of sewage rental and create openings for police sergeant and assistant fire chief.

Council defeated a motion 4 to 3 for a suspension of the rules to vote on abandoning the sewage collection office. Dissenting ballots were cast by Robert Adkins, Ray Anderson, Ray Cook and Boyd Horn.

Should the legislation be passed on third reading, duties now being carried by Miss Charlotte McEwing for the sewage department would be unified under water department personnel.

Cook objected to a suspension of the rules for a vote on the police and fire men jobs on grounds that "neither of the present forces of either department wanted the posts opened in their ranks."

QUESTIONS of classification rulings under civil service examinations arose under the proposals that may create embarrassment to men on the two forces, it was pointed out.

While Police Chief William F. McCrady urged council to create a police sergeant in his department, Fire Chief Talmer Wise said he and his men "all were against such a step" at the fire station.

Facing this round of objections, city council decided to table all three bills to allow further investigation.

Should the bills be approved later by council pay raises would be in order for both promotions from $185 per month to $187.50. Both chiefs' salaries are $191.25 per month.

By a 5 to 2 margin, council also voted down a suspension of rules on an ordinance giving the green light to the Norfolk and Western Rail way plans to improve city crossings.

The plans call for raising the

France Puts OK On Bernadotte Palestine Plan

PARIS, Sept. 22—The French government approved today the "last testament" proposals for a Palestine solution made by United Nations Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte.

An official statement issued coincident with deliberations of the UN General Assembly at the Palais de Chaillot said that France favors the plan as "a useful basis for negotiations."

Count Bernadotte's plan was received at UN headquarters here only a short while before his assassination in Jerusalem last week.

News of France's decision with regard to Palestine was the early highlight of today's assembly session, at which seven vice-presidents were elected.

The general pace of the assembly appeared to be one of marking time

Big Blow Heads Toward Atlantic

MIAMI, Sept. 22—Hurricane winds raced across Lake Okeechobee and the rich Central Florida citrus fields today at 100 miles an hour, leaving two dead and millions of dollars damage.

The lethal winds and swirling rains made a bee-line for the Atlantic Coast between Daytona Beach and Melbourne. A devastating toll of wreckage was left in the storm's wake.

The island city of Key West, bearing the full brunt of the storm, suffered a crushing blow. Winds raked the city at a 160-mile-an-hour clip.

Miami escaped the giant force of the storm. The Florida metropolis was brushed by blasts of full hurricane force but escaped major damage.

A newsman at Key West termed the hurricane "the worst in 30 years."

ORCHARDS laden with oranges and grapefruit were buffeted by the powerful winds today. A less-potent hurricane caused several million dollars worth of damage in that area in 1946.

A mid-morning bulletin from the Miami weather bureau charted the storm center over the northeastern end of Lake Okeechobee, headed in a north-east direction toward Melbourne and the Atlantic Ocean.

The storm is expected to pass out into the Atlantic about 9 p. m. It cut a swath across South Central Florida after swinging inland over Everglades City.

Six-and-a-half inches of rain fell at Fort Myers, just north of Everglades City, in the 12-hour period ending at mid-morning.

Damage was inflicted on vegetable crops, grapefruit orchards and the rich gladiolus industry near Fort Myers.

The U. S. engineer's office at Clewiston reported winds topping 80 miles an hour and said the city was under a foot of water.

The U. S. engineer said the Okeechobee dikes are expected to stand firm under the big blow.

Although the raging tropical storm lost some of its viciousness as it moved inland, it still packed winds of more than 100 miles an hour.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 22—A "friend" recently suggested to Charles Lewis Hall, 37-year-old print shop owner, that he print enough money to pay off his bills.

Hall thought it over, borrowed a $5 bill from another friend, made a photograph of it and then engraved a plate from the pictures, according to Treasury agents.

Autumn Booked To Start Here Wednesday Night

Summer passes doubly out of the Ohio picture at exactly 10:22 p. m. (EST) Wednesday.

Although day and night should be of equal length as the Autumnal Equinox occurs, there actually will be an 11-minute difference in favor of daylight because of cloud reflection.

According to forecasters an observer sees the sun rise before it actually does and likewise sees the sun hanging over the horizon at sunset after it already has gone down.

"To all intents and purposes, so long as the sun still is seen, by its reflection from the sky, it still gives off light. As far as the human eye is concerned, on Sunday, the 26th, day and night will be of equal length, with the sun rising at 6:18 a. m. and setting at 6:18 p. m.," experts explained.

THE COLD air mass which moved into the state Monday night from the James Bay area in Northern Ontario will penetrate to the extreme south portion of the state Wednesday, lowering temperatures in that section.

Although the mercury dropped to 39 degrees at Youngstown Tuesday night, observers said there was little likelihood of frost damage because of the considerable cloudiness and fairly brisk winds.

Bevin Says West To Hold Ground

LONDON, Sept. 22—British Foreign Secretary Bevin served firm notice on Moscow today that the Allies will remain in Berlin as a "symbol of resistance" to Soviet expansion.

He termed the Russian blockade a "dastardly" attempt to force the Western Powers out of the city. He said that while "we are not yet committed to war" the Western states are steadfastly determined to avert another Munich.

State Polio Count Now 798

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22—The state health department received reports of seven new cases of polio today to bring the 1948 total to 798. The corresponding 1947 total was 745.

Two of today's cases were reported from Cuyahoga County and the remainder from Madison, Henry, Trumbull, Wayne and Fayette Counties.

Burning Refuse Now Illegal Here; 'Hog Ordinance' Action Delayed

Burning of odorous refuse within Circleville's corporation limits now is prohibited, but a regulation against hogs in the city was returned to the ordinance committee for modification.

The ordinance includes all individuals, partnerships or corporations. Burning of leaves—on a Fall ritual—probably will be winked at by law enforcement agencies, councilmen agreed.

Breaking of the law will cause a minimum $5 fine to a $25 maximum penalty, the ordinance states with Police Chief William F. McCrady designated as enforcement officer.

The other bill which is referred to in council as the "Hog Ordinance" was held back from the final reading and returned to the ordinance committee for revamping.

Exactly what changes will be made was not specifically revealed. However, it was learned reliably that council wanted it pointed out that the law would include any firm dealing in livestock.

Since the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative Assn. is the only such organization within the city limits, it was believed the law would be rewritten to include that group.

If passed, the ordinance sets a minimum $5 fine and maximum $25 fine with the safety director responsible for enforcement.

Diplomats Claim New Note Being Written To Reds

PARIS, Sept. 22 — Authoritative diplomatic sources said today that the Western Powers are preparing a new note to the Kremlin in the effort to avert a breakdown of Berlin negotiations.

It is understood that the note, now being drafted by the "London Deputies Berlin Committee," will repeat Western charges that Soviet Military Governor Marsall Vassili Sokolovsky violated the understanding the Western envoys reached with Soviet Premier Stalin.

While avoiding appearance of an ultimatum, the note is expected to make clear that unless Sokolovsky changes his approach, the Berlin talks cannot continue.

Sokolovsky is said to have virtually reneged on offers made by Stalin to the Western envoys in their initial conversation last August.

State Republicans Detail List Of Accomplishments

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22 — Six weeks from today it'll be all over and Ohio will know who is going to be president and who is going to be governor in 1949.

Meanwhile, however, there's a lot of politicking to be done. And the Republicans are getting ready to do their share of it.

California Gov. Earl Warren, the vice-presidential candidate on the ticket headed by New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is coming to Columbus tomorrow for the one-day, streamlined Republican platform convention.

The Democrats held their kick-off convention and named their 25 presidential elector candidates last week.

Governor Herbert will go to Cincinnati to meet Warren and accompany him to Columbus.

Death Prevents Gift Presentation

WOODSFIELD, Sept. 22 — A. B. Devore, 94 years old and married 75 years, won't have a chance to win a radio prize he received for his marital record.

Devore and his wife were awarded $101 as the listeners who had been married for the longest period. Last night, Devore died before he could collect the money.

NEW BRASS 'NOT WANTED'

Council Moving Slowly On New Officer Setup

A third reading was voted by Circleville city council Tuesday night for three ordinances that would abolish the office of collector of sewage rental and create openings for police sergeant and assistant fire chief.

Council defeated a motion 4 to 3 for a suspension of the rules to vote on abandoning the sewage collection office.

Dissenting ballots were cast by Robert Adkins, Ray Anderson, Ray Cook and Boyd Horn.

Should the legislation be passed on third reading, duties now being carried by Miss Charlotte McEwing for the sewage department would be unified under water department personnel.

Cook objected to a suspension of the rules for a vote on the police and firemen jobs on grounds that "neither of the present forces of either department wanted the posts opened in their ranks."

QUESTIONS of classification rulings under civil service examinations arose under the proposals that may create embarrassment to men on the two forces, it was pointed out.

While Police Chief William F. McCrady urged council to create a police sergeant in his department, Fire Chief Talmer Wise said he and his men "all were against such a step" at the fire station.

Facing this round of objections, city council decided to table all three bills to allow further investigation.

Should the bills be approved later by council pay raises would be in order for both promotions from $185 per month to $187.50. Both chiefs' salaries are $191.25 per month.

By a 5 to 2 margin, council also voted down a suspension of rules on an ordinance giving the green light to the Norfolk and Western Rail way plans to improve city crossings.

The plans call for raising the

France Puts OK On Bernadotte Palestine Plan

PARIS, Sept. 22 — The French government approved today the "last testament" proposals for a Palestine solution made by United Nations Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte.

An official statement issued coincident with deliberations of the UN General Assembly at the Palais De Chaillot said that France favors the plan as "A useful basis for negotiations."

Count Bernadotte's plan was received at UN headquarters here only a short while before his assassination in Jerusalem last week.

News of France's decision with regard to Palestine was the early highlight of today's assembly session, at which seven vice-presidents were elected.

The general pace of the assembly appeared to be one of marking time.

16 Indictments Returned By September Grand Jury

In a two-day session ending Tuesday, September term of Pickaway County grand jury returned 16 true bills, three of which were secret indictments, and ignored 14 other cases.

During the course of hearings conducted in the jury room of the courthouse, 41 witnesses were called and one case passed for lack of testimony.

Appearing before the grand jury Monday at the opening session, Judge William D. Radcliff charged the 15-member panel with instructions to follow the statutes.

In the inspection tour, the grand jury found no "bucket shops" or other forms of gambling in the county and made a favorable report on the conditions in the courthouse and jail. Grand jury members did not visit the county home or children's home.

Three indictments were returned against Ebon Junior Taylor, 24, of Era, who is being held under $1,000 bond accused of writing checks with insufficient funds.

Two charges of insufficient funds were brought against Taylor beside a third indictment for non-support of his wife and two children.

Thomas Lane and Dale Figley, both 18, of San Pedro, Cal., were indicted for auto larceny. Both youths were under $1,000 bond.

Circleville police accused Lane and Figley with attempting to steal a used car from the Moats auto lot on East Main street last month.

On a bill of information, William Sark, 28, of Circleville, was true billed on a grand larceny count. Sark's indictment was secret, but was made public when it was disclosed he was

Toll Rate Hike Asked

Council Hears Of Phone Deal

Notification of a meeting of the Ohio State Public Utilities Commission for the purpose of increased telephone rates was received Tuesday night by Circleville city council.

The meeting was scheduled by the commission to discuss proposed rate hikes by the Bell Telephone System on all long distance calls in the state.

While Circleville is not served locally by the Bell company, residents here would be affected in making long distance calls which are carried through the Bell system, officials pointed out.

Council received the notice with some distaste with Councilmen Ray Anderson and E. L. Montgomery openly declaring "rates already are too high for service received."

MEANWHILE, Boyd Horn asked council to consider sewage protection for residents of the Heffner addition who are reportedly plagued with drainage troubles.

Horn declared water washes onto private property in the addition both from Circleville city lands and Circleville Township.

He said sewers should be provided to protect the drainage from washing into wells and toilets. Residents in the Heffner addition have no city water or city sewers, Horn pointed out.

The city's financial statement for the period Sept. 1 to 21 was approved showing the following balances:

General fund—$11,099.25; sewage disposal fund—$3,369.71; Berger hospital fund—$4,258.53; auto street repair fund—$3,161.38; gasoline tax fund—$5,607.89; water works operating fund—$12,329.03; water works extension fund—$14,645.06; water works refund deposit—$560; police pension fund—$871.70; and firemen's pension fund—$856.70.

Bebop Now Rage Among Japanese

TOKYO, Sept. 22—First it was the New Look and now it's Be-bop.

After running the gamut of Japanese versions of countless things American in the three years since the surrender, Tokyo is in for a barrage of jazz in the type of Trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie.

The Be-bop outbreak is due to come as soon as leading Japanese hep cats, currently greatly interested in the new jazz innovation, can get the hang of it, which probably won't be very long.

Grand Jury Indicts 16

Sark is accused of stealing a $300 diamond ring last June from the finger of William White of Columbus and reselling the article for $18 in a Columbus pawn shop.

A true bill was brought against Ned Buskirk, 50, of Circleville who is accused of carrying a concealed weapon. He is retained under $500 bond.

Ethel Smith of Circleville was indicted for allegedly passing a $15 worthless check in a local grocery store. Earl Conrad of Circleville Township was indicted on a grand larceny count, accused of stealing a truck brake check valve. He is under $500 bond on an affidavit filed by the Pickaway County sheriff's office.

Seven non-support true bills were returned against the following:

WILLIAM Henry Brown of Circleville; Delinda Smith of Circleville; William Cartney of Ashville; John W. Bennett of Columbus; Ashley Smith of Circleville; Charles Winland of Tarlton; and Clarence L. Steele of Circleville.

Following is a list of 14 cases ignored by grand jury:

The second degree manslaughter case against George Brandt, 31, of Dayton, was dropped by the grand jury.

Brandt's case was brought in on a bill of information in connection with the traffic death Sept. 5, of Mathias Teets, 88, of Williamsport.

A car driven by Brandt struck Mr. Teets while he was walking along Route 22, six miles east of Circleville.

Other cases ignored were those of Willard Cook of Ashville—assault and battery; George King Jr., of Williamsport—gambling; Bobby Kincaid of Beaver, W. Va.,—grand larceny; Delinda Smith—Circleville—assault and battery.

Goldie Bensonhaver of Circleville—assault; Georgetta Dean of Circleville—assault; Andrew J. Patnie of Lancaster—breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony; Margaret Shaffer of Circleville—disorderly conduct; Noah Brown of Circleville—disorderly conduct.

Henry Shaffer of Circleville—driving when under the influence

said that "if those crossings get any higher you'll need stilts to get over them."

The ordinance will come up for second reading at next meeting of council.

MEANWHILE, council gave its unanimous approval to an ordinance authorizing the safety director to advertise for bids on equipment for the new fire alarm system.

The equipment includes a control cabinet and indicator, cost of which is estimated at about $975, Adkins stated at last council meeting.

This measure was merely signing the approval which was given by the solons in an earlier meeting this month.

Local Cab Line Installing New Radio System

Circleville's newest bid as an enterprising city came Wednesday when the City Cabs Co. began installing two-way radios in each of its three taxis.

Chester Blue, owner of the fleet, said the cabs would be completely outfitted by the middle of next week and ready for rapid service.

The new radios have been granted license to operate by the Federal Communications Commission.

Blue said the station was powerful enough to cover a radius of 50 miles.

The idea behind installation of the new system is to give quick service with as few trips as possible.

A new set of rates is to be established as soon as the two-way system goes into operation. In general, the rates will not necessarily show an increase, but will be set up on a different scale for short and long trips, Blue explained.

of alcohol; James Reichelderfer of Tarlton—failure to yield the right of way; Merle Ankrom of Circleville—assault and battery; and Eddie Brungs of near Circleville—assault and battery.

THE LARCENY case against Hobart Tisdale of Leistville was passed by the grand jury.

Members of the grand jury are:

W. M. Scothorn of Ashville; Ed. M. Ridgway of Derby; Clyde Hoover of Ashville; M. B. Klingensmith of Circleville Route 3; John W. Greishimer of Orient; Royal V. Hamman of Williamsport; Mrs. Laura King of Circleville.

Prisoner's Wife Seeks Divorce

Mary F. Taylor has filed suit for divorce in Piakaway County common pleas court against Ebon Junior Taylor.

Taylor was indicted Tuesday on three counts by the county grand jury and is being held in jail pending his sentence probably sometime later this week.

According to the plaintiff's petition, she and Taylor were married May 21, 1941, in London, and they have two children ages 5 and 2.

The petition declared Taylor was addicted to excessive use of alcohol, that he mistreated Mrs. Taylor and failed to provide for his family.

She is asking the court to grant her custody of the children and reasonable alimony.

First Draft Questionnaires Mailed County Registrants

The first of 342 occupational questionnaires to be received by Pickaway County draft registrants have been mailed with the remainder scheduled to go out before Sept. 30.

Question forms will be sent to the 342 who registered in the 18 to 26 age brackets and who are single, non fathers and non-veterans.

The seven-page form containing three sections must be filled out and returned to Pickaway County draft board No. 98 within 10 days after receipt.

Miss Betty Miner, draft board clerk, emphasized that under no circumstances are registrants to contact members of the board for assistance in filling out the questionnaires.

Board members suggest that if help is needed, the registrant should seek the assistance of any attorney.

RAY DAVIS and Joe W. Adkins have been designated as legal advisers to any draftee while George D. Young is the government appeal agent. All three are Circleville attorneys.

In the 30-day registering period from Aug. 30 to Sept. 18, a total of 1,419 men signed up with the Pickaway County draft board.

Aside from the first 342 who are to receive the first questionnaire forms, the remaining 1,077 are exempt for reason of marital or veteran status.

It also was pointed out that 140 men in the 18-year-old group probably will be held in reserve until they reach the age of 19.

Circus Case Again Delayed

A further delay in the outcome of the Mills Brothers Circus case came Wednesday in Columbus when the date for hearing briefs was extended to Oct. 13.

The case originally came into Columbus criminal court June 30 when the city claimed the circus trucks were operating on city streets while bearing Missouri licenses.

City Attorney Walter Brelly Jr. requested the latest postponement stating that Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, attorney for the Mills Brothers, turned in a 10-page brief Tuesday allowing no time for the city attorney to prepare his answer.

BERNARD BRANNAN
Funeral services for Bernard Brannan, 63, of Akron, will be held Thursday at 3 p. m. in the Eckert Funeral home there. Burial will be in Lakewood cemetery.

Brannan, a former resident of Circleville, is survived by his widow, Sue; two daughters, Mrs. Lyle Hazlett and Mrs. David Kuzmo, of Akron; two sons, Donald of South Bloomfield and Dan of Circleville; his mother, Mrs. Josephine Young of Circleville; and three sisters, Mrs. Harvey Dresbach and Mrs. Margaret Shadley of Circleville and Mrs. Cecilia Reynolds of Logan.

Women Sought For Enlistment In WAC, WAF

Authorization has been received by the Circleville Army recruiting office for acceptance of applications for enlistment in the WAC and WAF from women with and without prior service.

Age limits for applicants without prior service are 18-34, and for those with prior service not to exceed 35 plus the number of years of honorable active service.

Recruiters pointed out that for a two-year period, enlisted strength in the WAC will not exceed 7500, and the WAF 4000, and that applicants will be selected to meet the needs of the services.

Recruits accepted for the WAC will receive their basic training at Camp Lee, Va., following which 60 percent of the group will remain at Camp Lee for advanced training, and the remaining 40 percent will be sent to specialist schools.

Further information is available from S-Sgt. Lloyd Williams of the local Recruiting Station, V. F. W. Home, 217 North Court street.

Bebop Now Rage Among Japanese

TOKYO, Sept. 22—First it was the New Look and now it's Be-bop.

After running the gamut of Japanese versions of countless things American in the three years since the surrender, Tokyo is in for a barrage of jazz in the style of Trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie.

The Be-bop outbreak is due to come as soon as leading Japanese hepcats, currently greatly interested in the new jazz innovation, can get the hang of it, which probably won't be very long.

Sark is accused of stealing a $300 diamond ring last June from the finger of William White of Columbus and reselling the article for $18 in a Columbus pawn shop.

A true bill was brought against Ned Buskirk, 50, of Circleville who is accused of carrying a concealed weapon. He is retained under $500 bond.

Ethel Smith of Circleville was indicted for allegedly passing a $15 worthless check in a local grocery store. Earl Conrad of Circleville Township was indicted on a grand larceny count, accused of stealing a truck brake check valve. He is under $500 bond on an affidavit filed by the Pickaway County sheriff's office.

Seven non-support true bills were returned against the following:

WILLIAM Henry Brown of Circleville; Delinda Smith of Circleville; William Cartney of Ashville; John W. Bennett of Columbus; Ashley Smith of Circleville; Charles Winland of Turlinton; and Clarence L. Steele of Circleville.

Following is a list of 14 cases ignored by grand jury:

The second degree manslaughter case against George Brandt, 31, of Dayton, was dropped by the grand jury.

Brandt's case was brought in on a bill of information in connection with the traffic death Sept. 5, of Mathias Teets, 88, of Williamsport.

A car driven by Brandt struck Mr. Teets while he was walking along Route 22, six miles east of Circleville.

Other cases ignored were those of Willard Cook of Ashville—assault and battery; George King Jr. of Williamsport—gambling; Bobby Kincaid of Beaver, W. Va.—grand larceny; Delinda Smith—Circleville—assault and battery.

Goldie Bensonhaver of Circleville—assault; Gergetta Dean of Circleville—assault; Andrew J. Patnie of Lancaster—breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony; Margaret Shaffer of Circleville—disorderly conduct; Noah Brown of Circleville—disorderly conduct.

Henry Shaffer of Circleville—driving when under the influence of alcohol; James Reichelderfer of Turlinton—failure to yield the right of way; Merle Ankrom of Circleville—assault and battery; and Eddie Brungs of near Circleville—assault and battery.

MEANWHILE, council gave its unanimous approval to an ordinance authorizing the safety director to advertise for bids on equipment for the new fire alarm system.

The equipment includes a control cabinet and indicator, cost of which is estimated at about $975, Adkins stated at last council meeting.

This measure was merely signing the approval which was given by the solons in an earlier meeting this month.

Local Cab Line Installing New Radio System

Circleville's newest bid as an enterprising city came Wednesday when the City Cabs Co. began installing two-way radios in each of its three taxis.

Chester Blue, owner of the fleet, said the cabs would be completely outfitted by the middle of next week and ready for rapid service.

The new radios have been granted license to operate by the Federal Communications Commission.

Blue said the station was powerful enough to cover a radius of 50 miles.

The idea behind installation of the new system is to give quick service with as few trips as possible.

A new set of rates is to be established as soon as the two-way system goes into operation. In general, the rates will not necessarily show an increase, but will be set up on a different scale for short and long trips, Blue explained.

of alcohol; James Reichelderfer of Turlinton—failure to yield the right of way; Merle Ankrom of Circleville—assault and battery; and Eddie Brungs of near Circleville—assault and battery.

THE LARCENY case against Hobart Tisdale of Leivsville was passed by the grand jury.

Members of the grand jury are: W. M. Scothorn of Ashville; Ed. M. Ridgway of Derby; Clyde Hoover of Ashville; M. B. Klingensmith of Circleville Route 3; John W. Greishimer of Orient; Royal V. Hamman of Williamsport; Mrs. Laura King of Circleville.

John Carle of Circleville; Mrs. Mildred B. Fullen on Ashville; Oakley Leist of Stoutsville; Robert Buck of New Holland; Leona Riegel of Circleville Route 3; Sylvia Reid of Circleville; E. S. Roper of Circleville; and Edward C. Rector of Williamsport.

Prisoner's Wife Seeks Divorce

Mary F. Taylor has filed suit for divorce in Pickaway County common pleas court against Ebon Taylor.

Taylor was indicted Tuesday on three counts by the county grand jury and is being held in jail pending his sentence probably sometime later this week.

According to the plaintiff's petition, she and Taylor were married May 21, 1941, in London, and they have two children ages 5 and 2.

The petition declared Taylor was addicted to excessive use of alcohol, that he mistreated Mrs. Taylor and failed to provide for his family.

She is asking the court to grant her custody of the children and reasonable alimony.

$6 Million Taken By Shoplifters

LONDON—Light-fingered operators—most of them amateurs—pilfered $6 million worth of goods from British stores last year to shatter all previous records.

Britain's leading department stores are redoubting efforts to combat the wave of shoplifting, but admit prospects are not encouraging. Detectives in one store said they were able to catch red-handed only four of each 150 under suspicion.

First Draft Questionnaires Mailed County Registrants

The first of 342 occupational questionnaires to be received by Pickaway County draft registrants have been mailed with the remainder scheduled to go out before Sept. 30.

Question forms will be sent to the 342 who registered in the 18 to 26 age brackets and who are single, non fathers and non-veterans.

The seven-page form containing three sections must be filled out and returned to Pickaway County draft board No. 98 within 10 days after receipt.

Miss Betty Miner, draft board clerk, emphasized that under no circumstances are registrants to contact members of the board for assistance in filling out the questionnaires.

Board members suggest that if help is needed, the registrant should seek the assistance of any attorney.

RAY DAVIS and Joe W. Adkins have been designated as legal advisers to any draftee while George D. Young is the government appeal agent. All three are Circleville attorneys.

In the 30-day registering period from Aug. 30 to Sept. 18, a total of 1,419 men signed up with the Pickaway County draft board.

Aside from the first 342 who are to receive the first questionnaire forms, the remaining 1,077 are exempt for reason of marital or veteran status.

It also was pointed out that 140 men in the 18-year-old group probably will be held in reserve until they reach the age of 19.

Circus Case Again Delayed

A further delay in the outcome of the Mills Brothers Circus case came Wednesday in Columbus when the date for hearing briefs was extended to Oct. 13.

The case originally came into Columbus criminal court June 30 when the city claimed the circus trucks were operating on city streets while bearing Missouri licenses.

City Attorney Walter Brelly Jr. requested the latest postponement stating that Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, attorney for the Mills Brothers, turned in a 10-page brief Tuesday allowing no time for the city attorney to prepare his answer.

hurled seven stories to his death last night when he went to the hotel roof to inspect it. The mighty winds swept him from his dangerous perch.

Mrs. Benjamin Kincaid, 53, of suburban Coconut Grove, was electrocuted when she picked up a live wire in the back yard of her home.

MAJOR DAMAGE was reported today in the Florida Keys. The violent winds lifted roofs off houses, uprooted trees and utility poles and wrecked or sank more than 30 fishing vessels and pleasure craft.

Some damage was caused to naval vessels at the Key West base.

Drivers Unhurt In Collision

Two drivers escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when their cars collided at the intersection of Routes 104 and 22, three miles west of Circleville.

The autos were driven by James R. Jordan, 29, of Columbus, and Ralph E. Hinkson, 44, of Kenmore, Kenmore, N. Y.

Deputy Sheriff Vern Pontius said Jordan was travelling west on Route 22. When he attempted to miss a turning truck, Jordan cut across the road and rammed Hinkson's car, the deputy asserted.

Local Ag Agent Cautions
Against Hasty Seedings

County Extension Agent Larry Best Wednesday cautioned Pickaway farmers against becoming over anxious about planting Winter wheat.

Best said Oct. 2 was the earliest date he would recommend wheat planted in the county, since by that date the county would be free of the Hessian Fly, scourge of the wheat crops.

The county agent said there was an upturn in Hessian Fly numbers in the state and, although weather conditions indicate a good crop might be planted following soybean and corn crops, farmers should be cautious about the deadline.

The agent added force to his argument by quoting statistics compiled in other counties.

HE SAID field inspections in Stark, Tuscarawas and Holmes Counties in 1948 revealed 40 to 50 percent of wheat stalks infested with fly larvae. The average infestation was 8.6 percent in 22 counties, but it was only 3.4 percent in those same counties in 1947. The rise indicates a lot of Ohio wheat will be lost in 1949 unless fly-free seeding dates are more closely observed.

Best says the heaviest fly infestation of all Ohio wheat, on the average occurred in 1932. A survey in that year showed fly larvae present in 35.5 percent of all wheat stalks in inspected fields.

The larvae weaken the straw so it is likely to lodge before harvest time, and the heads either do not fill with grain or they are not picked up by the harvesting machinery.

Hessian Fly cannot be entirely eradicated because there always is some volunteer wheat which starts growing early enough to provide places for the fly to deposit its eggs. Some authorities claim harvesting with combines increases the amount of volunteer wheat, and therefore complicates the problem of Hessian fly control.

Four good types of Winter wheat are recommended by the agent.

FIRST ON the list is a new-comer, which he predicts will be advantageous in Pickaway County.

TEXT OF MAYOR Miller's proclamation follows:

"The only congressional charter of the Disabled American Veterans, commonly called the DAV, the group is deserving of generous giving by all citizens in response to its annual Forget-Me-Not appeal. The excellent rehabilitation service of the DAV has brought incalculable returns, both humanitarian and financial to thousands of deserving wartime disabled veterans, and has thus helped to increase the purchasing power of every community. It is to the interest of all citizens that this type of constructive service shall be continued. Citizens who contribute towards this cause will be making a big dividend-paying investment in community service. Unemployed List Still Shrinking

Only 12 Claims Noted In August

New claims in Pickaway County Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, which have been setting all-time low records for the last three months, continued to skid downward in August.

According to C. C. Thomas, manager of the local office, 10 less new claims were filed in August compared to July and 69 less weeks of compensation were paid out under the Ohio Law and Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

His figures reveal 12 new claims were filed in August against 22 new claims lodged with the BUC office in July. Only 220 compensable weeks were paid out compared with 289 in the previous month of July.

During August, Thomas declared, the average was 29 claimants weekly under the Ohio Law and 21 under the SRA.

THESE FIGURES, which are maintained by Miss Mary Wolfe at the BUC office, disclose that 45 new applications for employment were filed in August. In July 24 new applications were recorded.

Last month the BUC office placed 20 persons in local jobs, three of which were handled by the Farm Placement Service, a division of the Circleville unemployment office.

Since Jan. 1, of this year, Miss Wolfe's records show 191 persons have been placed in "Now Employed" file.

These job locations were made possible through the 162 employer visits made by Thomas and his associates.

Job applications have increased in recent months because of announced plans by the new $2.5 million General Electric plant to open here soon.

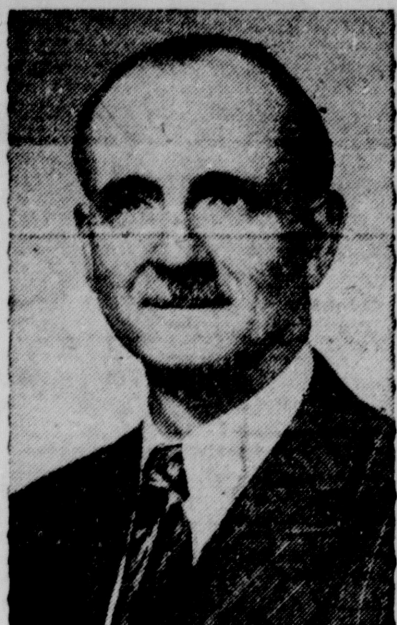

Orion Crewmen Reported Safe

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Coast Guard headquarters in New York announced today that 30 crewmen of the foundered Greek freighter Orion are safe and apparently uninjured.

The 8,000 ton vessel caught fire and went aground Monday in the straits of Belle Isle, off Newfoundland.

Details were lacking. It is not known whether the ship is still burning or if the crew members had been taken aboard another vessel.

Although the Navy's submarine service had less than two per cent of the total Navy personnel, the submarine forces sank two-thirds of all Japanese ships accounted for by the Navy during World War II.

Vorys Claims Reds In Schools

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22—U. S. Rep. John M. Vorys, Columbus Republican, believes that if America gets past mid-October without war, there will be no shooting for the U. S. this year.

Vorys told Cincinnati newsmen yesterday that Communism had penetrated our education system in an ideological "hot war." He said the only way to fight Communism and at the same time keep our educational system free, was "by recognizing that the ideological war is on now; by being watchful of those who cry 'red herring' every time an attempt is made to investigate Communism."

State Says Rerouting Of Traffic Here Is 'Impossible' Proposition

Circleville city council was informed Tuesday night that there is no legal means of rerouting heavy traffic away from Route 23 and over Route 104.

Lloyd H. Fleming, traffic supervisor of the state highway department Division 6, said the proposal was impossible so long as the state contributes toward the upkeep of Route 23.

Idea of the move was suggested at last council meeting as a means of eliminating much of the city's traffic congestion and early morning noises.

All that can be done, Fleming told the solons, is to place alternate route signs in Columbus and Chillicothe and hope pilots of big trucks will use the suggested route.

He pointed out, however, that there was no way to force the drivers of the big rigs to use the alternate route. Fleming said the state "must have an awfully good reason" before it will reroute traffic off a main highway such as Route 23.

The city was given the state's OK on elimination of right and left turns at Court and Main streets on Saturday night. Councilman Ray Cook suggested this move to cut down traffic hazards.

Fleming told councilmen that it would be necessary to clearly mark the "No Turn" streets and set aside alternate routes for traffic to travel.

Council took the matter under further consideration with out taking any positive action.

It is only natural that speculation concerning the Dewey cabinet should intrigue political writers and magazine editors. Few of them will prove correct when the time comes for appointment. I do not know any more about it than my conferees, nor do I believe that Dewey is very much better posted on the subject at this moment.

Dewey is not one of those swelling-chested big city personalities who slaps every man he meets on the back and promises him his heart's content. A small-town person, shy, slow to form personal friendships, he avoids commitments. Some Republicans, who do not understand Dewey and his team and their methods, may have assumed that silence, in the face of an expressed wish, means consent. But that is not Dewey's nature. When he does not say a thing, it has not been promised. It has taken some New Yorkers a decade to learn that.

Most of the guesses center on the Dewey team in Albany but the wildest speculations are being publicized about so-called eligibles. The Dewey team is not a coterie of personal friends or a kitchen cabinet. It is a responsible body of extraordinarily loyal and skilled men and women who share with the Governor of the State of New York his work, political and administrative. I here list them with their titles in alphabetical order:

Glen R. Bedenkapp, chairman, New York Republican state committee; Elliott V. Bell, state superintendent of banks; R. Burdell Bixby, assistant secretary; Charles D. Breitel, counsel to Dewey; Herbert Brownell Jr., manager of the 1948 campaign; John E. Burton, director of the budget; Alger B. Chapman, commissioner of taxation and finance and president of the state tax commission; John Foster Dulles; Hamilton Gaddis, assistant secretary; James C. Hagerty, executive assistant; Edwin Jaekle, chairman, Erie County Republican committee; Harold Keller, commissioner, department of commerce; Paul E. Lockwood, secretary; William T. Pfeiffer; Hickman Powell; J. Russell Sprague, Republican national committeeman; Roger Williams Straus; Jane H. Todd, vice-chairman, New York Republican state committee; Mrs. Charles W. Weiss Jr., Republican National committee woman.

Obviously, all of these persons cannot be on his cabinet because they are all from New York and no President could afford to load his cabinet too heavily with members from one state or even one section of the country.

It is therefore correct to assume that whatever cabinet Dewey appoints is likely to be nationwide in personnel and broadly representative of varying segments of the Republican Party. Supported wholeheartedly even by those who opposed his nomination, he would indeed be inept if he overlooked the unanimity in the Republican Party and if he failed to maintain it as President.

Furthermore, he is bound to have a narrow margin in the Senate during his first two years in office and he will therefore not antagonize any part of his party by producing a cabinet of cronies.

DIET AND HEALTH
Relief for Motion Sickness

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE problem of preventing motion sickness assumed great importance just before the invasion of Europe. This all-important campaign had to be launched across the English channel, one of the roughest bodies of water in the world, and the men who executed it had to hit the beachheads in fighting trim. For this reason a great deal of study was devoted to finding ways of preventing the dizziness, sickness at the stomach and vomiting which are the classic symptoms of motion sickness.

Drugs used for relieving the symptoms of either air or seasickness should prevent the symptoms without producing any other effects. They should be active when taken by mouth, and they should begin their action quickly after they are taken. The drugs should not be toxic or poisonous, nor should they be habit-forming, nor cause any disagreeable symptoms.

Similar Drugs

In general, the drugs which have been used for airsickness are similar to those employed for seasickness. Most of them have the effect of depressing nerve sensitivity or of stimulating the action of certain nerves.

The drugs which seem to be most useful are atropine, hyoscyamine and hyoscine. However, the atropine and hyoscyamine cause dryness of the mouth to a greater extent than does the hyoscine. Hence, this last named preparation has been employed most frequently. It also seems to be effective in seasickness.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. V.: Will you please tell me what causes little white spots to flicker in front of my eyes?

Answer: Spots before the eyes is a symptom that appears in several diseases. It may be due to constipation, to a defect in the vision, to high blood pressure, or to migraine.

A thorough examination by a physician is necessary before the exact cause can be determined; then proper treatment can be suggested.

SYNOPSIS
Beautiful Gail "Rusty" Rogers, New York model, loves Sam Meredith passionately. She wants him, all the fun and excitement that goes with his career as a newspaper reporter. But, with realistic, adventure-loving Sam Gail knows there would be no real home life, no security. She is frightened by the poverty of her childhood and so makes up her mind to "Marry for Money."

CHAPTER TWO
SHE MADE a long arm, pulled Gail toward him and kissed her. She was quiet under his kiss, neither struggling nor responsive. He let her go and asked roughly, "What's got into you? You know you like me to kiss you!"

She thought, Yes, worse luck, and looked at him gravely. She had been looking at him, on and off, for more than a year. Sometimes she thought she would never tire, and at other times she wished she might never see him again. I'm tired, she told herself, edgy and all mixed up.

"It's no use, Sam," she said, "my mind's made up."

"Your what?" he demanded. He added, "Look, I'm resigned to a fate worse than death. What's the percentage in playing hard to get?"

"I'm not." Her voice, usually low and a little husky, sharpened. "I appreciate your sacrifice," she said. "I know you don't want to marry anyone."

"Skip it."

She said, "I'm not going to see you any more, Sam."

"Why?"

"You know why."

"You're scared," he said slowly. "Scared that I'll wear down your resistance . . . one way or another."

Now he was laughing. He didn't believe her; maybe she didn't believe herself, but she had to . . . she thought dreadingly. She said with an effort, "Sam, look at me."

"It's a pleasure."

"As if you had never seen me before: as if it were for the first time. What do I look like, to you?"

"Very pretty," he answered promptly, "very desirable."

"Me," she agreed, "and a hundred thousand other girls . . . girls who become a year older on each birthday, and eventually a year less pretty, a year less desirable."

"You've been reading books," he accused her. "What's the gimmick?"

"There's nothing special about me," Gail told him. "A lot of girls are young and have good figures, good legs, and the sort of face now in fashion—you see it everywhere . . . advertisements, fashion magazines, calendars, illustrations. The sort of face that flashes on the screen or sits back of desks. The sort of face that waits on you in restaurants and shops . . ."

"That's funny," he said, "con- Copyright, 1947, 1948, by Faith Baldwin Cuthrell. Published by Rinehart & Company, Inc.

He said, interested, "I've never had a face wait on me."

"You know what I mean. A photogenic face . . . I'm too tall for the screen," she said, "and, moreover, I can't act."

"What's this leading into?"

"Nothing, really. I've been in love with you. In a way, I still am. I don't know why," she added, "but I'm going to get over it. There's no future in it, Sam."

For the first time tonight he was genuinely alarmed and angry. He asked, "What do you mean, no future in it? I offered you a future, didn't I? . . . as legal as a marriage license."

"Oh, sure," she said, "you offered. But you admitted what I've always known. You don't want to be tied down. You've never wanted that, and since you came home you're more restless than ever. You told me so on our first date."

He said, "Look, Gail, discount half of all I say. I'll settle down, one day."

"Possibly, but not with me."

"What do you really want?" he demanded.

"Nothing you can give me. A couple of years ago I knew what I wanted . . . or thought I did. I wanted out, from behind a typewriter. I had two chances, there in the advertising agency. One was a nice boy. No world beater but he'd always make a living. Eventually a house in the suburbs, a part-time maid, a couple of kids and a station wagon. I didn't want that. Then someone came in and saw me and said I was wasting my time. So I took that chance. I learned to walk, dress and put my face on, properly. I'm a good model, Sam, and I get paid for it. I carry a hatbox and everyone says, aren't you lucky, and you must meet such interesting people."

"You met me."

"You," she said, "and a lot of other wolves. Sam, I'm sick of it. I'm sick of lights and cameras, of wearing a bathing suit in winter and mink in summer; I'm tired of illustrators' studios and fashion shows. I'm even tired of flying to Arizona to lean against a corral fence in levis and a red shirt, talking to wranglers and maybe to a horse. I'm tired of going to the Bahamas to sit on a hunk of coral, looking relaxed, and of standing on the edge of a tilted pool in Arizona with a backdrop of mountains, desert, and cacti. I'd like to start going places without the camera."

Sam said, "Don't be sorry for yourself, baby. That kid in the agency, were you in love with him?"

"I've never been in love with anyone but you."

"That's funny," he said, "considering your temperament."

Her color rose again. She said, "All right, Sam . . . but I wasn't aware, until quite recently, of my temperament, as you call it."

"A euphemism," he agreed.

She said slowly, "I don't really like you, much, Sam. You're careless and inconsiderate. You're unreliable. You drink too much."

"You sound like Betty, or any wife."

"Maybe. You're tough," said Gail. "I suppose you had to be. The war gave you your chance . . . that and the fact that you and Betty were divorced just before the war—"

"You don't like me," he asked, "but you're in love with me? That's a man's angle, Gail, not a woman's. Most men don't like the women they fall in love with . . ."

She smiled, for the first time. She said, "That's right. You don't like me, as a matter of fact."

"You're wrong," he said. "I didn't at first. Another good-looking baby, I thought, and on the make. Hard as nails, seen in the right places, keeping her pretty eyes peeled and smarter than most. Not making any errors, even for love. All facade and no emotion. It wasn't a new challenge, but most men fall for it. Most of them say, Maybe I'm the one. Most of them get fooled. I didn't. Plenty of emotion, Gail, and there's no sense denying it."

"I don't deny it."

"If you don't want me," he said, "what do you want?"

"Security."

"Where is anyone going to get that, nowadays?" he demanded.

"In the Victorian era, yes. Marry, put on a cap, sit by the fire, wait for the Mr. Big to come home. Kids, as compensation. What compensations are they now? And Mrs. on the calling card. If you'd wanted what passes for, what even might be, if you're lucky, a little security, why didn't you marry the kid in the agency?"

"Penthouses," he asked, unbelieving. "a couple of yachts, a safe-deposit box? Not you, Gail. I might have thought so when I first met you, but not now. You can have fun for peanuts; you can ride on a bus, you can go to the movies, you can eat a blue-plate dinner and have fun. You aren't a grabber; buy this, gimme that. I know. I was once married to a girl with an incurable case of the getmes."

"Not incurable," she said. "Betty was just trying to compensate for the things you wouldn't or couldn't give her. Pete doesn't earn any more than you, Sam, and she's happy. She's all over the getmes. She has what she wants."

Economists Again Warn of Depression

Talk Less of Boom, More About a Bust

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Inflation is still on the march, but factors have entered the picture causing economists to shift their trumpets. Instead of stressing further price rises, they are harping on final consequences. Talking less about "boom" and more about "bust."

The change in emphasis has caused several influential Republican leaders to insist that signs now are pointing more toward depression than further inflation, and that the problem will be to prevent a severe downspin, rather than to check further price advances.

This view is held by Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R), Michigan, chairman of the House banking committee. Similar thoughts are entertained by Senator Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, who predicted a short time ago that inflation would no longer be a problem when the new Congress convenes in January.

Privately, some GOP leaders are wondering whether it is going to be Republican "luck" to elect Dewey and then have him inherit a post-war "bust."

● DREAM HOUSE—It is a safe bet that the movie Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House held more than usual interest for Secretary of State George C. Marshall and his wife.

The movie tells the story of a couple who get tired of living in the cramped quarters of "modern cliff-dwellers" and seek the wide open spaces in the country. There, they build their "dream house."

Of course, the plot of the story has much to do with the difficulties the couple run into in their efforts to revitalize an old estate.

It was recalled in Washington that the secretary of state and his lady themselves had bought an old estate in Virginia, as have many retired Army officers, and taken on their shoulders the job of restoring it.

That was many years ago and now it is a pleasant mansion to which Marshall retires as often and as much as world problems will permit.

● MURRAY AND THE LEFT-WINGERS—There are several stories concerning how CIO President Phil Murray was able to swing his organization's executive board behind the Truman-Barkley ticket without precipitating a bolt by the dozen leftist union heads on that body.

Most widely-accepted version is that Murray laid down the law in an after-hours session the night before the group voted 35 to 12 to support the Democratic slate.

Union leaders pledged to support Henry Wallace came to the board meeting loudly crying "bolt" if Murray and the right-wing majority tried to bull through the Truman endorsement. Murray countered with:

The board, whether you like it or not, is going to support Truman. Bolt if you like, but if you do we'll raid your unions as hard as the old AFL raids will seem like a ladies' social.

The leftists didn't pull out. Murray won, but very fairly stated publicly that the CIO constitution does not make it mandatory for all unions to support a majority board decision.

● GOP RED PROBES—The recent State department charge that Communist aliens are roaming the country at will caught the Republicans by surprise.

GOPers weren't averse to anti-administration campaign ammunition, but they hadn't expected this matter to pop up now.

Privately, they were saying they would dig into it when they captured the White House and had more access to government records.

One GOP senator, however, said he had some "startling disclosures" to make about the subject.

He said that next year he will charge that the Roosevelt and Truman administrations were liberal in allegedly permitting alien teachers and students to overstay their temporary permits.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

The Commerce Department says we are making 95 percent more money than we did in 1929. This indicates we would be well off if we weren't broke.

But the new credit restrictions are not too much of a restraint on our liberties. A sewing machine must be paid for in 15 months but a man still can take a 20-year mortgage on a house he can't afford.

If this doesn't curb inflation we will increase the restrictions on sewing machine credit.

But it cannot be said that we are not cautious. Sixty million workers owe only $7.25 billion for goods bought on time.

In other words we are as solvent as a politician's promises and we hope not to be held to ours either.

Harry blames our financial troubles on Wall Street and he must be right. The Democrats would have switched from that line sometime since 1896 if he wasn't.

$10,000 JOBS

AN ODD fact of life is that people who are wanted for well-paying jobs won't take them, while any number of other persons would be glad to accept. This is particularly true now of various posts in the government service, many paying as high as $10,000 a year. These include the jobs of under-secretary of labor and budget director for the Army. Over 50 are vacant now because the nominees who were approached refused to accept. Some had better positions already; others were afraid of a change of administration in the Fall elections, with the result that they would be replaced by some one else of the opposite party.

Another powerful reason was the fact that $10,000 is not what it used to be a number of years ago. Prices have gone up, while the constant rule remains that the government higher-ups have to do a lot of entertaining. Whatever the popular notion may be, very little money is saved on a government salary.

The next administration, of whatever party, will have to increase many salaries if it wants to get and hold good men. It might accomplish the same result by drastically reducing prices, but no one would want to bet on that happening.

SHARING

IT IS estimated that the average American family shares the expense of ECA by the amount of $135 a year.

The homemaker, carefully budgeting her money, can thus figure that a small slice from the allowances for food, clothing, rent, utilities, church and amusements is going overseas to make life slightly more bearable for other homemakers in Europe. This may give her an enjoyable feeling of benevolence.

That $135 would buy quite a few pairs of shoes for fast-growing feet, many gallons of gas for the family car, or other things. Being a decent fellow, the wage-earner is sure we ought to help, but being at the same time a practical man, he wants to be equally sure that the Europeans in charge of handling ECA funds are careful with his money. An all-out effort on their part must be put forth to supplement, and in time take the place of, the Marshall Plan funds.

China is planning already to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the birth of Confucius next August. Wonder if he would be interested in applying his famous principle of rectifying names to Russian Communism?

In the United States the winning of the national championship in baseball is front-page stuff. In Russia it is the winning of the chess championship. This must prove something, but what?

But, with restless, adventure-loving Sam Gail knows there would be no real home life, no security. She is frightened by the poverty of her childhood and so makes up her mind to "Marry for Money."

CHAPTER TWO

SAM MADE a long arm, pulled Gail toward him and kissed her. She was quiet under his kiss, neither struggling nor responsive. He let her go and asked roughly, "What's got into you? You know you like me to kiss you?"

She thought, Yes, worse luck, and looked at him gravely. She had been looking at him, on and off, for more than a year. Sometimes she thought she would never tire, and at other times she wished she might never see him again. I'm tired, she told herself, edgy and all mixed up.

"It's no use, Sam," she said, "my mind's made up."

"Your what?" he demanded. He added, "Look, I'm resigned to a fate worse than death. What's the percentage in playing hard to get?"

"I'm not," Her voice, usually low and a little husky, sharpened. "I appreciate your sacrifice," she said, "I know you don't want to marry anyone."

"Skip it."

She said, "I'm not going to see you any more, Sam."

"Why?"

"You know why."

"You're scared," he said slowly, "scared that I'll wear down your resistance . . . one way or another."

Now he was laughing. He didn't believe her; maybe she didn't believe herself, but she had to . . . she thought dreadingly. She said with an effort, "Sam, look at me."

"It's a pleasure."

"As if you had never seen me before; as if it were for the first time. What do I look like, to you?"

"Very pretty," he answered promptly, "very desirable."

"Me," she agreed, "and a hundred thousand other girls . . . girls who become a year older on each birthday, and eventually a year less pretty, a year less desirable."

"You've been reading books," he accused her. "What's the gimmick?"

"There's nothing special about me," Gail told him. "A lot of girls are young and have good figures, good legs, and the sort of face now in fashion—you see it everywhere . . . advertisements, fashion magazines, calendars, illustrations. The sort of face that flashes on the screen or sits back of desks. The sort of face that waits on you, in restaurants and shops . . ."

"You met me."

"You," she said, "and a lot of other wolves. Sam, I'm sick of it. I'm sick of lights and cameras, of wearing a bathing suit in winter and mink in summer; I'm tired of illustrators' studios and fashion shows. I'm even tired of flying to Arizona to lean against a corral fence in levis and a red shirt, talking to wranglers or maybe to a horse. I'm tired of going to the Bahamas to sit on a hunk of coral, looking relaxed, and of standing on the edge of a tiled pool in Arizona with a backdrop of mountains, desert, and cacti. I'd like to start going places without the camera."

Sam said, "Don't be sorry for yourself, baby. That kid in the agency, were you in love with him?"

"I've never been in love with anyone but you."

"That's funny," he said, "con-

Unemployed List Still Shrinking

Only 12 Claims Noted In August

New claims in Pickaway County Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, which have been setting all-time low records for the last three months, continued to skid downward in August.

According to C. C. Thomas, manager of the local office, 10 less new claims were filed in August compared to July and 69 less weeks of compensation were paid out under the Ohio Law and Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

His figures reveal 12 new claims were filed in August against 22 new claims lodged with the BUC office in July. Only 220 compensable weeks were paid out compared with 289 in the previous month of July.

During August, Thomas declared, the average was 29 claimants weekly under the Ohio Law and 21 under the SRA.

THESE FIGURES, which are maintained by Miss Mary Wolfe at the BUC office, disclose that 45 new applications for employment were filed in August. In July 24 new applications were recorded.

Last month the BUC office placed 20 persons in local jobs, three of which were handled by the Farm Placement Service, a division of the Circleville unemployment office.

Since Jan. 1, of this year, Miss Wolfe's records show 191 persons have been placed in "Now Employed" file.

These job locations were made possible through the 162 employer visits made by Thomas and his associates.

Job applications have increased in recent months because of announced plans by the new $2.5 million General Electric plant to open here soon.

Orion Crewmen Reported Safe

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Coast Guard headquarters in New York announced today that 30 crewmen of the foundered Greek freighter Orion are safe and apparently uninjured.

The 8,000-ton vessel caught fire and went aground Monday in the straits of Belle Isle, off Newfoundland.

Details were lacking. It is not known whether the ship is still burning or if the crew members had been taken aboard another vessel.

Although the Navy's submarine service had less than two per cent of the total Navy personnel, the submarine forces sank two-thirds of all Japanese ships accounted for by the Navy during World War II.

LOUIS S. JACOBSON of Dayton, district governor of the 159th district of Rotary International, will make his annual visit to Circleville Rotary Club for a dinner meeting at 7 p. m. Thursday in the Pickaway Arms.

Vorys Claims Reds In Schools

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22—U. S. Rep. John M. Vorys, Columbus Republican, believes that if America gets past mid-October without war, there will be no shooting for the U. S. this year.

Vorys told Cincinnati newsmen yesterday that Communism had penetrated our education system in an ideological "hot war." He said the only way to fight Communism and at the same time keep our educational system free, was "by recognizing that the ideological war is on now; by being watchful of those who cry 'red herring' every time an attempt is made to investigate Communism."

State Says Rerouting Of Traffic Here Is 'Impossible' Proposition

Circleville city council was informed Tuesday night that there is no legal means of rerouting heavy traffic away from Route 23 and over Route 104.

Lloyd H. Fleming, traffic supervisor of the state highway department Division 6, said the proposal was impossible so long as the state contributes toward the upkeep of Route 23.

Idea of the move was suggested at last council meeting as a means of eliminating much of the city's traffic congestion and early morning noises.

All that can be done, Fleming told the solons, is to place alternate route signs in Columbus and Chillicothe and hope pilots of big trucks will use the suggested route.

He pointed out, however, that there was no way to force the drivers of the big rigs to use the alternate route. Fleming said the state "must have an awfully good reason" before it will reroute traffic off a main highway such as Route 23.

The city was given the state's OK on elimination of right and left turns at Court and Main streets on Saturday night. Councilman Ray Cook suggested this move to cut down traffic hazards.

Fleming told councilmen that it would be necessary to clearly mark the "No Turn" streets and set aside alternate routes for traffic to travel.

Council took the matter under further consideration with out taking any positive action.

Baby Is Victim Of Home Fire

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 22—A 24-year-old mother lay critically burned in a Portsmouth hospital Wednesday, mourning the death of her nine-month-old daughter, burned in a fire that destroyed their six-room frame home three miles north of Rarden.

Mrs. Maude Delph received third-degree burns when she tried to rescue her baby, Carol Kay Delph from the flames that exploded from the kitchen stove where the mother was using kerosene to kindle a fire.

OSU Classes Open Today

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22—Ohio State university came to life with a bang today as 4,500 new students hit the campus for a six-day orientation course, lead-off to the formal school opening next Tuesday.

The freshman and other new students will be whipped through 33 physical, mental and general subject tests and other projects designed to acquaint them with the academic life.

Mrs. Harry McGhee Hostess For Opening DAR Chapter Meeting

Mrs. Helen Lawson Is Speaker

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, opened its Fall and Winter meetings Tuesday afternoon when members met with Mrs. Harry McGhee in her Williamsport home.

Assisting hostesses for the September meeting were Mrs. George Hamman, Mrs. George P. Hunsicker, Mrs. Walter Duvendeck, Mrs. Lee Luellen, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. McClelland Newhouse and Mrs. Fred Tipton.

Mrs. Martin Cromley, regent, opened the meeting in ritualistic form. She was assisted by Miss Edith Haswell, chaplain, who offered a prayer and read a sermon written by Mrs. Charles Wendelken, state chaplain. Salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Leroy Cromley.

In observance of Constitution Week, three verses of the "Star Spangled Banner" were sung. Mrs. Joseph C. Peters played the piano accompaniment. A prayer by the national regent, Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne, was read.

An announcement was made concerning the national library fund. Mrs. Charles H. May is serving as contribution chairman.

Members of the chapter voted that an article entitled "Old Toys" written by Mrs. Paul Johnson of Circleville be sent to the Filing and Lending Library.

Mrs. Helen Lawson, state conservation worker, gave a talk and showed pictures on, "What We Find In Our Back Yards." The topic pertained to nature, floods, soil erosion, value of some weeds, insects, wild life preservation, and the loss from neglect or destruction of the land.

Two piano selections were then played by six-year-old Suzanne Frasier. Refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostess.

Constitution Week Observed

A program in observance of Constitution Week was presented before members of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Tuesday evening in the post room of Memorial hall.

Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, patriotic instructor, directed the program. She gave a talk and read the preamble to the U. S. Constitution. Then by comparison she read the preamble to the Korean constitution. The instructor directed a quiz contest dealing with names of the men who were responsible for the writing of the Constitution.

Mrs. Irene Jenkins presided for a business meeting. She reminded the members of inspection scheduled for Nov. 2 and urged each to attend the Oct. 5 meeting when rehearsal will take place.

Church Group Honors Mrs. Burns

Members of Women's Auxiliary of St. Philip's Episcopal church met in the rectory Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Sherburne to mark the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William Burns of South Scioto street.

Miss Laura Mader was leader of the program. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table. Miss Mary Marfield presided at the table.

Household Hints

A quick and easy way to get variety in vegetable soup is to use dehydrated vegetables in place of one or more fresh vegetables. Unless the dehydrated vegetables require long soaking, drop them into the hot meat broth without soaking, with the fresh vegetables.

The floor covering is an important item in your home decorative scheme. Pattern, color and size have become all important today. A room-sized rug should follow the outline of the room and extend to within six inches of the wall. In rooms of irregular shape, it is even more important to use wall-to-wall carpeting than in square or oblong rooms.

When you are sewing, choose needles that suit the weight of the material you are using. Size 10 is best for most dress materials and for hand sewing that calls for small stitches. Sizes 7 and 8 are better for heavy fabrics and basting.

One generous serving of cabbage, raw, furnishes about half the vitamin C the average person needs daily. When cooked by pan-frying, a serving of cabbage furnishes about one-third of the daily need of this vitamin. Pan-frying is heating with very little water and often some fat, in a closely covered frying pan. When it is boiled, cabbage furnishes only about one-sixth vitamin C. In boiling, much of the vitamin goes into the cooking water. If this water is served with the cabbage, boiled cabbage offers about as much C as pan-fried cabbage. Boiled cabbage is brighter in color but less flavorful than pan-fried cabbage.

Grange Increases 4-H Treasury

4-H Clubs of Saltcreek Valley were $40 richer following the meeting of Saltcreek Valley Grange when the members voted to make a contribution to the youth for the 4-H Club Foundation project.

Robert Delong, master, directed the meeting. Second degree was conferred upon a group of candidates. H. A. Strous read a report of the expenses incurred by 4-H clubs of the township for recent parties.

Representatives were balloted upon to represent Pickaway County Granges at the Ohio state convention. A letter of appreciation for flowers was read from Mrs. Leland Yapple. Inspection was conducted by T. L. Glick, deputy, and Mrs. Glick, matron, with 50 Grangers and 20 Juvenile Grangers in attendance.

Floral decorations in the auditorium were arranged by Mrs. W. E. Luckhart, Mrs. George Jury and Mrs. Fred Minshall.

A pie-eating contest took place during the program period. Talks were given by Strous and Glick. A piano solo was played by Billy Rihl. Group singing, contests and a lunch brought the meeting to a close.

24 Attend Club Luncheon

Summer social activities concluded Tuesday for women affiliated with Pickaway County Club when 24 places were laid at small tables centered by bouquets of marigolds for a luncheon-bridge.

The affair was arranged by Miss Margaret Boggs, Mrs. Eugene Barthelmas and Mrs. Richard Samuel.

Prizes for games of contract bridge were won by Mrs. William Leist and Mrs. Samuel.

Potato Chip Plant Holds Open House For Kiddies

Circleville mothers who fret on Wednesday afternoons when their small fry are late in coming home from school can at least in one case, put their fears at ease.

"Junior" isn't worried — he probably is happily gorging himself with potato chips.

This sort of thing has been going on for nearly two years, according to Dean Bushee, local chip manufacturer.

Bushee has declared Wednesday afternoon as "open season" on his potato chip store, West

Butter Prices Hitting Skids

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22—Cleveland butter prices skidded today in the wake of wholesale price drops in Chicago and New York.

Prices were down four cents a pound in one super market and the Fisher Bros. Co. is expected to announce a similar cut tomorrow.

The price slashes would bring butter down to 81 cents a pound. Atlantic and Pacific Food Stores and the Kroger Co. are expected to "follow the market," according to their respective spokesmen.

AYDS contains Vitamins A, D, Ergosterol, Thiamin, Riboflavin, also Calcium, Phosphorus, Iron, nutrients that indicate a doctor's foresight in discovering a candy to help you lose weight—without weakening effects.

High street, to all Circleville school children — an institution readily accepted by nearly 200 youngsters every Wednesday.

It seems that when the potato chip man went into business about two years ago he found he had a large amount of potato chips which were broken and, although perfect for eating, unsaleable.

HE FOUND that the small fry was not as choosy as his older clientele, especially since the "goodies" were free, and started doling out pounds of the chips on Wednesday afternoon.

"Bring your own sack", is the potato chipper's only ruling.

Workers at the plant who deal with the kiddies every week report the youngsters range in age from year-and-a-halfers to suspiciously large "school kids". It is "suspected the wee youngsters are merely "stooges" for their older brothers and sisters, and are taken along just to "hold the bag". However, everything seems to turn out OK, since the tots come back the following Wednesday with their empty sacks.

Bushee reports Summer months the heaviest, when the youngsters gather at the building at noon and wait all afternoon.

Bushee says he hears some strange stories. Least convincing he had heard during the two years came from a moppet who wanted the chips for her baby sister.

"She just had her tonsils taken out and the doctor said potato chips would help her.—Well he did!"

PTA Congress Stresses Health

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22 — The Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, in its final convention session, was to recommend to its 1,965 delegates in Cleveland today that strong support be given the local Public Health Services Act of 1948.

Members also were to be urged to study and to help implement the National Mental Health Act enabling states and communities to secure federal aid for mental hygiene clinics, for research on mental health and for allied scholarship training.

Convention leaders were expected to call for more emphasis on social hygiene education beginning in the home and continuing in the school by adequately trained teachers.

Special attention has been directed to the strengthening of the major health projects of the congress, the summer round up of children and the school lunch program.

Ohio Firm Told Stop Shipments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—The U. S. State and Commerce Departments have refused to allow a Columbus firm to deliver $9,500,000 worth of oil machinery to the Romanian government.

The State department said the action was taken after the International Derrick and Equipment Co. already had delivered $1,500,000 worth of machinery to Romania over State department protests.

Romanian legation protests to the denial of goods have been rejected on the grounds that all of Romania's oil production is going to Russia and the Communist bloc.

Explosion Rips Lorain A-Bomb Plant

LORAIN, Sept. 22—Thirty families returned to their homes in the area of the Brush-Beryllium Company in Lorain today after a violent explosion engulfed the plant in flames and caused $250,000 damage.

The families were evacuated late last night when it was feared that a smoke stack 160 feet high would be blown up.

Succeeding explosions every few minutes fed the flames as the two-story brick building on Lorain's lakefront burned furiously.

Two employees were in the plant at the time the fire broke out, but neither was injured.

Chemicals used in atomic bombs were stored in the plant and were believed responsible for the blasts.

Fire Chief Elmer Stough said that despite efforts by seven fire companies, the building probably would be a total loss.

Some 200 workers, busy on an expansion program, had left the plant several hours before the fire broke out.

The plant occupies about half of a city block and was to have been reopened Dec. 31.

Blaze Levels Oak Grove Spot

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22—Damage was estimated at $20,000 today in a fierce blaze that leveled Oak Grove dance hall at Georgesville in the southwest corner of Franklin County last night.

Firemen from Grove City and Rome battled the stubborn blaze in the one-story frame building for about two hours with no success.

Owner James Ricketts of Grove City said he operated a restaurant regularly in the place but that the dance hall was open only on Saturday night. No one was injured.

Mrs. Harry McGhee Hostess For Opening DAR Chapter Meeting

Mrs. Helen Lawson Is Speaker

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, opened its Fall and Winter meetings Tuesday afternoon when members met with Mrs. Harry McGhee in her Williamsport home.

Assisting hostesses for the September meeting were Mrs. George Hamman, Mrs. George P. Hunsicker, Mrs. Walter Duvendack, Mrs. Lee Luellen, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. McClelland Newhouse and Mrs. Fred Tipton. Mrs. Martin Cromley, regent, opened the meeting in ritualistic form. She was assisted by Miss Edith Haswell, chaplain, who offered a prayer and read a sermon written by Mrs. Charles Wendelken, state chaplain. Salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Leroy Cromley.

In observance of Constitution Week, three verses of the "Star Spangled Banner" were sung. Mrs. Joseph C. Peters played the piano accompaniment. A prayer by the national regent, Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne, was read.

An announcement was made concerning the national library fund. Mrs. Charles H. May is serving as contribution chairman.

Members of the chapter voted that an article entitled "Old Toys" written by Mrs. Paul Johnson of Circleville be sent to the Filing and Lending Library.

Mrs. Helen Lawson, state conservation worker, gave a talk and showed pictures on "What We Find In Our Back Yards." The topic pertained to nature, floods, soil erosion, value of some weeds, insects, wild life preservation, and the loss from neglect or destruction of the land.

Two piano selections were then played by six-year-old Suzanne Frasier. Refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostess.

Constitution Week Observed

A program in observance of Constitution Week was presented before members of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Tuesday evening in the post room of Memorial hall.

Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, patriotic instructor, directed the program. She gave a talk and read the preamble to the U. S. Constitution. Then by comparison she read the preamble to the Korean constitution. The instructor directed a quiz contest dealing with names of the men who were responsible for the writing of the Constitution.

Mrs. Irene Jenkins presided for a business meeting. She reminded the members of inspection scheduled for Nov. 2 and urged each to attend the Oct. 5 meeting when rehearsal will take place.

Church Group Honors Mrs. Burns

Members of Women's Auxiliary of St. Philip's Episcopal church met in the rectory Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Sherburne to mark the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William Burns of South Scioto street.

Miss Laura Mader was leader of the program. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table. Miss Mary Marfield presided at the table.

Household Hints

A quick and easy way to get variety in vegetable soup is to use dehydrated vegetables in place of one or more fresh vegetables. Unless the dehydrated vegetables require long soaking, drop them into the hot meat broth without soaking, with the fresh vegetables.

The floor covering is an important item in your home decorative scheme. Pattern, color and size have become all important today. A room-sized rug should follow the outline of the room and extend to within six inches of the wall. In rooms of irregular shape, it is even more important to use wall-to-wall carpeting than in square or oblong rooms.

When you are sewing, choose needles that suit the weight of the material you are using. Size 10 is best for most dress materials and for hand sewing that calls for small stitches. Sizes 7 and 8 are better for heavy fabrics and basting.

One generous serving of cabbage, raw, furnishes about half the vitamin C the average person needs daily. When cooked by pan-frying, a serving of cabbage furnishes about one-third of the daily need of this vitamin. Pan-frying is heating with very little water and often some fat, in a closely covered frying pan. When it is boiled, cabbage furnishes only about one-sixth vitamin C. In boiling, much of the vitamin goes into the cooking water. If this water is served with the cabbage, boiled cabbage offers about as much C as pan-fried cabbage. Boiled cabbage is brighter in color but less flavorful than pan-fried cabbage.

FIRST FALL DRESS... Beige wool gabardine simply and softly tailored in a New York fashion for autumn and winter 1948-49. Zipper closing from a small collar extends past the waist, belted in brown and green suede. Sleeves are gracefully cuffed.

Loses 39 Lbs. Regains Curves Says Painesville Lady

Florence Tuttle, R. D. 4 Midway Blvd., Painesville, Ohio writes, "I was just plain fat weighing 177 lbs. and being only 5 ft. 3 inches tall. Since taking Renel I have lost 39 lbs. and feel better; more pep and full of life. No more puffing and blowing. Renel has done me worlds of good. Those hidden curves are all mine again and I have not known a hungry moment while reducing. My motto is 'Be faithful to Renel' and I am very sincere in my praise for this reducer." Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Renel and notice the amazing results you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Renel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Renel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Renel.

"Junior" isn't worried — he probably is happily gorging himself with potato chips.

This sort of thing has been going on for nearly two years, according to Dean Bushee, local chip manufacturer.

Bushee has declared Wednesday afternoon as "open season" on his potato chip store, West

Butter Prices Hitting Skids

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22—Cleveland butter prices skidded today in the wake of wholesale price drops in Chicago and New York.

Prices were down four cents a pound in one super market and the Fisher Bros. Co. is expected to announce a similar cut tomorrow.

The price slashes would bring butter down to 81 cents a pound. Atlantic and Pacific Food Stores and the Kroger Co. are expected to "follow the market."

According to their respective spokesmen.

AYDS contains Vitamins A, D, Ergosterol, Thiamin, Riboflavin; also Calcium, Phosphorus, Iron, nutrients that indicate a doctor's foresight in discovering a candy to help you lose weight—without weakening effects.

High street, to all Circleville school children — an institution readily accepted by nearly 200 youngsters every Wednesday.

It seems that when the potato chip man went into business about two years ago he found he had a large amount of potato chips which were broken and, although perfect for eating, unsaleable.

HE FOUND that the small fry was not as choosy as his older clientele, especially since the "goodies" were free, and started doling out pounds of the chips on Wednesday afternoon.

"Bring your own sack", is the potato chipper's only ruling.

Workers at the plant who deal with the kiddies every week report the youngsters range in age from year-and-a-halfers to suspiciously large "school kids". It is suspected the wee youngsters are merely "stooges" for their older brothers and sisters, and are taken along just to "hold the bag". However, everything seems to turn out OK, since the tots come back the following Wednesday with their empty sacks.

Bushee reports Summer months the heaviest, when the youngsters gather at the building at noon and wait all afternoon.

Bushee says he hears some strange stories. Least convincing he had heard during the two years came from a moppet who wanted the chips for her baby sister.

"She just had her tonsils taken out and the doctor said potato chips would help her.—Well he did!"

PTA Congress Stresses Health

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22 — The Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, in its final convention session, was to recommend to its 1,965 delegates in Cleveland today that strong support be given the local Public Health Services Act of 1948.

Members also were to be urged to study and to help implement the National Mental Health Act enabling states and communities to secure federal aid for mental hygiene clinics, for research on mental health and for allied scholarship training.

Convention leaders were expected to call for more emphasis on social hygiene education beginning in the home and continuing in the school by adequately trained teachers.

Special attention has been directed to the strengthening of the major health projects of the congress, the summer round up of children and the school lunch program.

Ohio Firm Told Stop Shipments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—The U. S. State and Commerce Departments have refused to allow a Columbus firm to deliver $9,500,000 worth of oil machinery to the Romanian government.

The State department said the action was taken after the International Derrick and Equipment Co. already had delivered $1,500,000 worth of machinery to Romania over State department protests.

Romanian legion protests to the denial of goods have been rejected on the grounds that all of Romania's oil production is going to Russia and the Communist bloc.

Explosion Rips Lorain A-Bomb Plant

LORAIN, Sept. 22—Thirty families returned to their homes in the area of the Brush-Beryllium Company in Lorain today after a violent explosion engulfed the plant in flames and caused $250,000 damage.

The families were evacuated late last night when it was feared that a smoke stack 160 feet high would be blown up.

Succeeding explosions every few minutes fed the flames as the two-story brick building on Lorain's lakefront burned furiously.

Two employees were in the plant at the time the fire broke out, but neither was injured.

Chemicals used in atomic bombs were stored in the plant and were believed responsible for the blasts.

Fire Chief Elmer Stough said that despite efforts by seven fire companies, the building probably would be a total loss.

Some 200 workers, busy on an expansion program, had left the plant several hours before the fire broke out.

The plant occupies about half of a city block and was to have been reopened Dec. 31.

Blaze Levels Oak Grove Spot

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22—Damage was estimated at $20,000 today in a fierce blaze that leveled Oak Grove dance hall at Georgesville in the southwest corner of Franklin County last night.

Firemen from Grove City and Rome battled the stubborn blaze in the one-story frame building for about two hours with no success.

Owner James Ricketts of Grove City said he operated a restaurant regularly in the place but that the dance hall was open only on Saturday night. No one was injured.

Braves Set To Nail NL Flag To Pole

Playoff Expected In AL Campaign

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — The Boston Braves could clinch their first National League pennant in 47 years today.

This long-awaited event will come to pass if the Braves defeat the St. Louis Cardinals again this afternoon and the Brooklyn Dodgers lose another to Pittsburgh. A Boston victory would eliminate the Pirates also, even though the latter won.

The clinching of the flag by Boston now is inevitable. The Braves, now boasting of eight straight wins, their longest streak of the season, have knocked off their leading rivals — Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and St. Louis — one after another in hand-to-hand battles.

The finish was brought suddenly and dramatically closer yesterday as the pace-setters downed the third-place Cardinals twice while the second-place Dodgers, now 7½ games behind, lost two to Pittsburgh.

THE VETERAN Johnny Sain, racked up his 22nd victory and his sixth in succession in winning the opener, 11 to 3. Rookie Vern Bickford held the Cards to four hits and blanked them 4 to 0 in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh's first victory over Brooklyn was a ninth-inning playoff of a protested contest. The Pirates had only one out left to overcome a two-run lead, but they did it when Stan Rokjok doubled with the bases full to give the Bucs a 12-to-11 win.

In the second game, little Vic Lombardi, who like Rokjok is a former Dodger, trimmed Brooklyn, 6 to 3.

The fifth-place Giants saw their ace, Larry Jansen, rack up his 18th victory when Johnny Mize's three-run homer, his 38th circuit clout of the season, gave him a 3-to-2 decision over the Cubs.

In the night game, Chicago snapped a 10-game losing streak by nosing out the Giants, 3 to 2. Andy Pafko nicked Sam Webb for a three-run homer in the ninth after the Jersey City rookie had blanked the Bruins for the first eight innings.

IN ANOTHER night game the Phillies beat Cincinnati, 6 to 1, after the Reds had won, 6 to 5, in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, harried American League chieftains in Chicago today set up machinery for a two or three-team pennant playoff while in Cleveland the Indians and the first-place Boston Red Sox held their crucial one-game rendezvous.

In case of a two-team tie for the flag at season's end, one playoff game, held Monday, Oct. 4, will decide the pennant winner.

If the Red Sox, Indians and defending champion New York Yankees all tie for first place, two of them will meet Oct. 4, and the winner of that game will play the third team the next day for the pennant.

The Bosox, having won yesterday while Cleveland and the third-place Yanks were idling, had a lead of a full game over the Tribe and a game and a half over the Yankees.

A Cleveland victory today would see the Indians and Bosox tied for the lead. In such an event, the Yankees could move to within half a game of the top by beating the White Sox in their game at Chicago tonight.

Heavy Footing Trimming Field For Jug Classic

DELAWARE, Sept. 22—Army flame throwers were called upon today in an attempt to dry out Delaware's Grand Circuit race course, but a slow track still was in prospect for the $47,500 Little Brown Jug.

Prospects of heavy going trimmed the starting field in the three-year-old pacing classic to seven entries and dropped the purse slightly below the anticipated $50,000 figure.

Two preliminary days of Delaware racing have been postponed by rain.

Despite the mucky going, Knight Dream, owned by Armstrong and Gray of East Providence, R. I., was the favorite and expected to leave the starting gate at less than even money. The bay colt, to be driven by Franklin Safford, drew the outside position for the first heat.

Other entries were Poplar Volo, Marion Direct, Navy Hal, Bud Mite, Atomic Bomb and Guinea Gold.

Railbirds accorded Atomic Bomb and Marion Direct the best chance to nip Knight Dream.

LYING PRONE on the uncushioned rear fender, Roland R. Free, 47-year-old British service station operator, shows how he rode his two-cylinder machine to a new world speed record for motorcycles at Wendover, Ut. Free was clocked at 150.8 miles an hour across Bonneville flats. (International)

Co-Feature Due On Ring Card

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The boxing headlines reverted back to the Twentieth Century Sporting Club today for its lightweight championship bout and co-feature fistic show in Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, of Trenton, making his third title defense in as many starts, takes on Jesse Flores, of Stockton, Cal., in a 15-rounder. Williams is a prohibitive 1-to-5 favorite.

In the co-feature on the card, Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson meets Kid Gavilan, of Cuba, in a ten-round, non-title scrap. Robinson rules a 1-to-5 favorite over the flashy Cuban.

Weather stalls playoff in AA. By International News Service. The American Association playoffs continued to mark time today, awaiting dry weather in Columbus.

St. Paul already has clinched one berth in the playoff finals, defeating the regular season pennant winner, Indianapolis, four games to two.

Columbus holds a 3-2 edge on Milwaukee in the other semi-final, but wet grounds have stopped the two clubs the past two days.

RETURNING ON POGO-STICK

Zale Dethroned; Middle Title Goes To Frenchman

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Co-Managers Pian and Winch were to decide today whether Tony Zale—dethroned and deposed as middleweight champion by France's Marcel Cerdan—has had enough of prize fighting.

To the 19,272 cash "trade" at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium, it was decided that last night when the inert and deflated Zale didn't leave his corner for the 12th round, thus simplifying everything.

It meant, per se, that triumph and title went forthwith to Cerdan on the "bye" of an uncontested, non-partisan knockout. Ringsiders, paying a gross of $242,840 into the stadium coffers, were aghast at the spectacle of Zale subsiding slowly and haltingly upon the deck late in the 11th for the only knockdown. A right and left high on Zale's bruised and outraged head was the cause.

Zale, 34-year-old legs and with a shifting fighter in front of him, just wasn't at any time the berserk, blustering, grand old giant of the three Graziano fights.

At the outset, Marcel punched himself arm-weary on Zale's bobbing, distressed head trying for a first-round knockout. Then, after losing the opening two rounds, Tony started blasting home body punches with the heavy, sudden impact of a club.

One such in the fourth round popped Cerdan's mouth open like a gaffed carp and made his eyes roll.

Marcel, a wily, resourceful campaigner, took steps to see that this didn't happen after that by moving a half-step on top of Zale, nullifying his leverage, and constantly circling to Tony's right.

This maneuver was so successful that practically nothing happened after that—until the final seconds of the 11th round.

CERDAN, his dressing quarters resounding with galle fever, promised reporters he'd return to defend the new title. Promising was superfluous. The management had impounded, by contractual arrangement, 80 percent of his $40,000 guarantee, which meant that Marcel would be back if he has to come by pogo-stick.

With radio and movie fees, the management was claiming an overall gross today of $308,840. Also a net profit slightly under $25,000.

Irish Wanting Game In East
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 22—Head Football Coach Frank Leahy laid down the gauntlet today for Army, Navy or Columbia to pick up.

The Fighting Irish grid mentor said Notre Dame missed particularly not having the Army eleven on its foot ball schedule and offered to adjust its 1950 plans to include the West Pointers on a home-and-home basis. The game in the east would be played either at West Point or in New York.

Leahy added that he wanted the Irish team to play at least one game in New York City and said he would make a similar concession on the 1950 schedule if either the naval academy or Columbia would sign for a contest in New York.

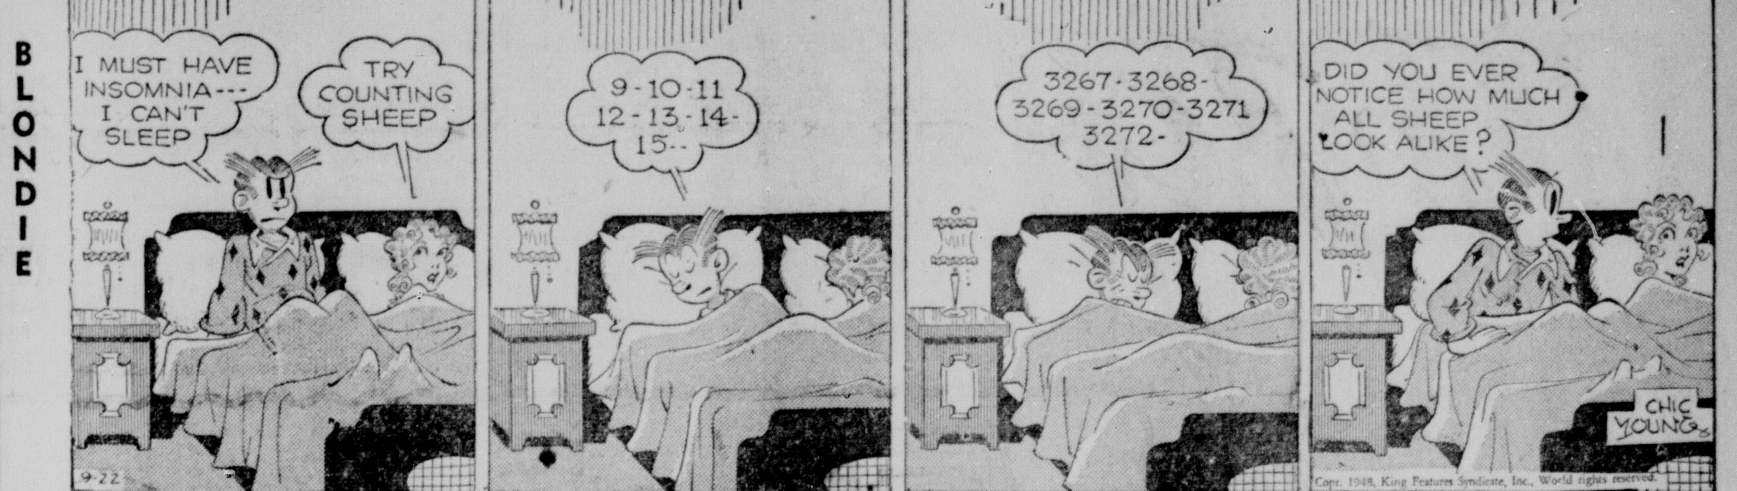

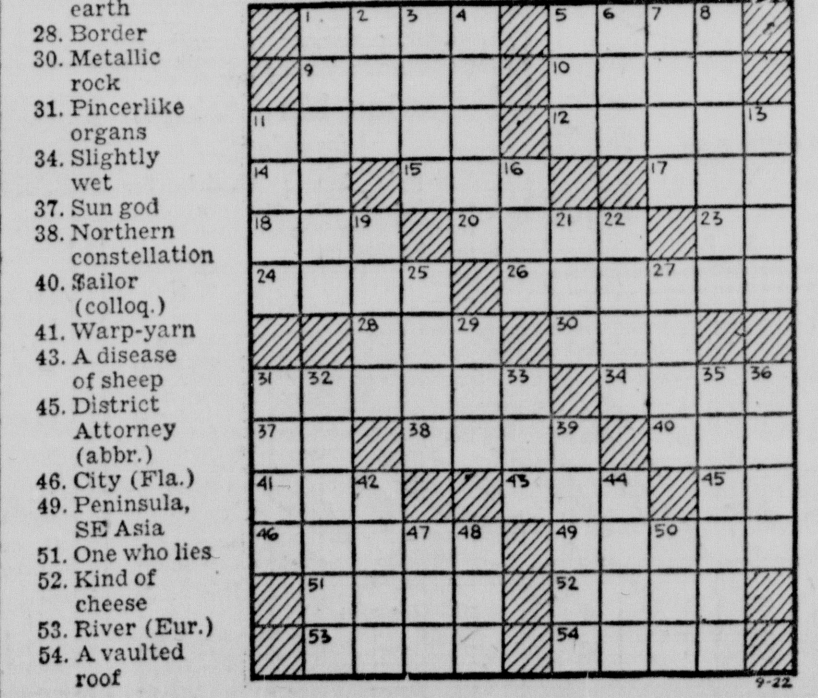

Race Chieftains Grant Request
CHICAGO, Sept. 22 — No one can say today that the Illinois Racing Board isn't obliging.

Earl R. Cowey, who owns and had been training race horses at the Hawthorne track, asked the board to rule him off the track for life. Cowey said he had been losing $40,000 to $50,000 a year following his hobby.

The board revoked Cowey's trainer's license, suspended him indefinitely and denied him all privileges at Illinois tracks.

Cowey had appeared on charges of stimulating Tom Brennan with benzadrine before the horse won on Sept. 17 at 30 to 1 and completed a $1,411 daily double.

Braves Set To Nail NL Flag To Pole

Playoff Expected In AL Campaign

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The Boston Braves could clinch their first National League pennant in 47 years today.

This long-awaited event will come to pass if the Braves defeat the St. Louis Cardinals again this afternoon and the Brooklyn Dodgers lose another to Pittsburgh. A Boston victory would eliminate the Pirates also, even though the latter won.

The clinching of the flag by Boston now is inevitable. The Braves, now boasting of eight straight wins, their longest streak of the season, have knocked off their leading rivals—Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and St. Louis—one after another in hand-to-hand battles.

The finish was brought suddenly and dramatically closer yesterday as the pace-setters downed the third-place Cardinals twice while the second-place Dodgers, now 7½ games behind, lost two to Pittsburgh.

THE VETERAN Johnny Sain, racked up his 22nd victory and his sixth in succession in winning the opener, 11 to 3. Rookie Vern Bickford held the Cards to four hits and blanked them 4 to 0 in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh's first victory over Brooklyn was a ninth-inning playoff of a protested contest. The Pirates had only one out left to overcome a two-run lead, but they did it when Stan Rojek doubled with the bases full to give the Bucs a 12-to-11 win.

In the second game, little Vic Lombardi, who like Rojek is a former Dodger, trimmed Brooklyn, 6 to 3.

The fifth-place Giants saw their ace, Larry Jansen, rack up his 18th victory when Johnny Mize's three-run homer, his 38th circuit-clout of the season, gave him a 3-to-2 decision over the Cubs.

In the night game, Chicago snapped a 10-game losing streak by nailing out the Giants, 3 to 2. Andy Pafko nicked Sam Webb for a three-run homer in the ninth after the Jersey City rookie had blanked the Bruins for the first eight innings.

IN ANOTHER night game the Phillies beat Cincinnati, 6 to 1, after the Reds had won, 6 to 5, in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, harried American League chieftains in Chicago today set up machinery for a two or three-team pennant playoff while in Cleveland the Indians and the first-place Boston Red Sox held their crucial one-game rendezvous.

In case of a two-team tie for the flag at season's end, one playoff game, held Monday, Oct. 4, will decide the pennant winner.

If the Red Sox, Indians and defending champion New York Yankees all tie for first place, two of them will meet Oct. 4, and the winner of that game will play the third team the next day for the pennant.

The Sox, having won yesterday while Cleveland and the third-place Yanks were idling, had a lead of a full game over the Tribe and a game and a half over the Yankees.

A Cleveland victory today would see the Indians and Sox tied for the lead. In such an event, the Yankees could move to within half a game of the top by beating the White Sox in their game at Chicago tonight.

Heavy Footing Trimming Field For Jug Classic

DELAWARE, Sept. 22—Army flame throwers were called upon today in an attempt to dry out Delaware's Grand Circuit race course, but a slow track still was in prospect for the $47,500 Little Brown Jug.

Prospects of heavy going trimmed the starting field in the three-year-old pacing classic to seven entries and dropped the purse slightly below the anticipated $50,000 figure.

Two preliminary days of Delaware racing have been postponed by rain.

Despite the mucky going, Knight Dream, owned by Armstrong and Gray of East Providence, R. I., was the favorite and expected to leave the starting gate at less than even money. The bay colt, to be driven by Franklin Safford, drew the outside position for the first heat.

Other entries were Poplar Volo, Marion Direct, Navy Hal, Bud Mite, Atomic Bomb and Guinea Gold.

Railbirds accorded Atomic Bomb and Marion Direct the best chance to nip Knight Dream.

LYING PRONE on the uncushioned rear fender, Roland R. Free, 47-year-old British service station operator, shows how he rode his two-cylinder machine to a new world speed record for motorcycles at Wendover, Ut. Free was clocked at 150.8 miles an hour across Bonneville flats. (International)

Brownies Eye Crazyleg Trouble

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22—One of the main objectives of the Cleveland Browns when they meet the Chicago Rockets Sunday in Municipal Stadium here will be the "crazy legs" of Elroy Hirsch.

Hirsch, who acquired the name "Crazylegs" when he was a sophomore at Wisconsin in 1942, is a spectacular broken field runner, as the Brownies discovered a few times last Friday when they downed the Rockets, 28-7.

Hirsch is one of the veteran backfield men who is giving the rockets their best punch in three seasons of All-America Conference play.

Co-Feature Due On Ring Card

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The boxing headlines reverted back to the Twentieth Century Sporting Club today for its lightweight championship bout and co-feature fistic show in Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, of Trenton, making his third title defense in as many starts, takes on Jesse Flores, of Stockton, Cal., in a 15-rounder. Williams is a prohibitive 1-to-5 favorite.

In the co-feature on the card, Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson meets Kid Gavilan, of Cuba, in a ten-round, non-title scrap. Robinson rules a 1-to-5 favorite over the flashy Cuban.

Weather Stalls Playoff In AA

By International News Service

The American Association playoffs continued to mark time today, awaiting dry weather in Columbus.

St. Paul already has clinched one berth in the playoff finals, defeating the regular season pennant winner, Indianapolis, four games to two.

Columbus holds a 3-2 edge on Milwaukee in the other semi-final, but wet grounds have stopped the two clubs the past two days.

RETURNING ON POGO-STICK

Zale Dethroned; Middle Title Goes To Frenchman

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Co-Managers Pian and Winch were to decide today whether Tony Zale—dethroned and dehorned as middleweight champion by France's Marcel Cerdan—has had enough of prize fighting.

To the 19,272 cash "trade" at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium, it was decided that last night when the inert and deflated Zale didn't leave his corner for the 12th round, thus simplifying everything.

It meant, per se, that triumph and title went forthwith to Cerdan on the "bye" of an untested, non-partisan knockout.

Ringsiders, paying a gross of $242,840 into the stadium coffers, were aghast at the spectacle of Zale subsiding slowly and haltingly upon the deck late in the 11th for the only knockdown. A right and left high on Zale's

7 County Quints Eye Alumni Loop

Pickaway County basketball fans will see a different brand of ball on the various county school courts this year when the Alumni Association League begins rolling.

So far, seven teams have made bids to enter the league and another is expected to join before next Tuesday.

Teams already set for play are alumni groups from Williamsport, Salter Creek, Monroe, Walnut, Scioto, Pickaway and Circleville.

A meeting of league heads and team managers has been planned for Tuesday night in the home of Frank Wilkins on South Scioto street. Wilkins is organizer of the county league.

Race Chieftains Grant Request

CHICAGO, Sept. 22—No one can say today that the Illinois Racing Board isn't obliging.

Earl R. Cowey, who owns and had been training race horses at the Hawthorne track, asked the board to rule him off the track for life. Cowey said he had been losing $40,000 to $50,000 a year following his hobby.

The board revoked Cowey's trainer's license, suspended him indefinitely and denied him all privileges at Illinois tracks.

Cowey had appeared on charges of stimulating Tom Breneman with benzdrine before the horse won on Sept. 17 at 30 to 1 and completed a $1,411 daily double.
